

Biomedical Search Consultants

Supply Chain Manager (Metro West Boston)

Our client is an established provider of manufacturing services to the medical device industry with a long track record of stability and growth.

Responsibilities

- Manages staff and oversees multiple supply chain activities to include production planning, purchasing, inventory control, receiving, warehouse stock control, warehousing and distribution.
- Manages the overall control and movement of materials in and out of plant.
- Plans, directs, controls, coordinates and evaluates inventory control, stocking and forecasting for unit/organization.
- Manages inventory replenishment based on production schedules, current inventory, customer orders and forecasts to maintain defined inventory levels and return on assets.
- Ensures accurate inventory records.
- Directs and control warehouse activities to ensure efficient and economical utilization of facilities for storing and distributing raw materials and finished goods.
- May plan and schedule department functions to ensure the prompt delivery of supplies of kind and amount required.
- Responsible for managing supplier's performance including supplier certification, quality, cost and delivery.
- Manages coordination of supply plans for new product introductions and product phase-outs.
- Defines and implements appropriate inventory and purchasing policies procedures and utilizes ERP via integrated systems to enforce execution.
- Develops, implements and maintains department standards, practices, procedures and policies.
- Trains and mentors department employees.

Requirements

- BS/BA or equivalent
- 6+ Years of relevant experience
- APICS, CPM or CPIM certification preferred
- Medical device background preferred

Please submit resume to: kprovost@biomedicalsearchconsultants.com

For more information, please visit www.biomedicalsearchconsultants.com